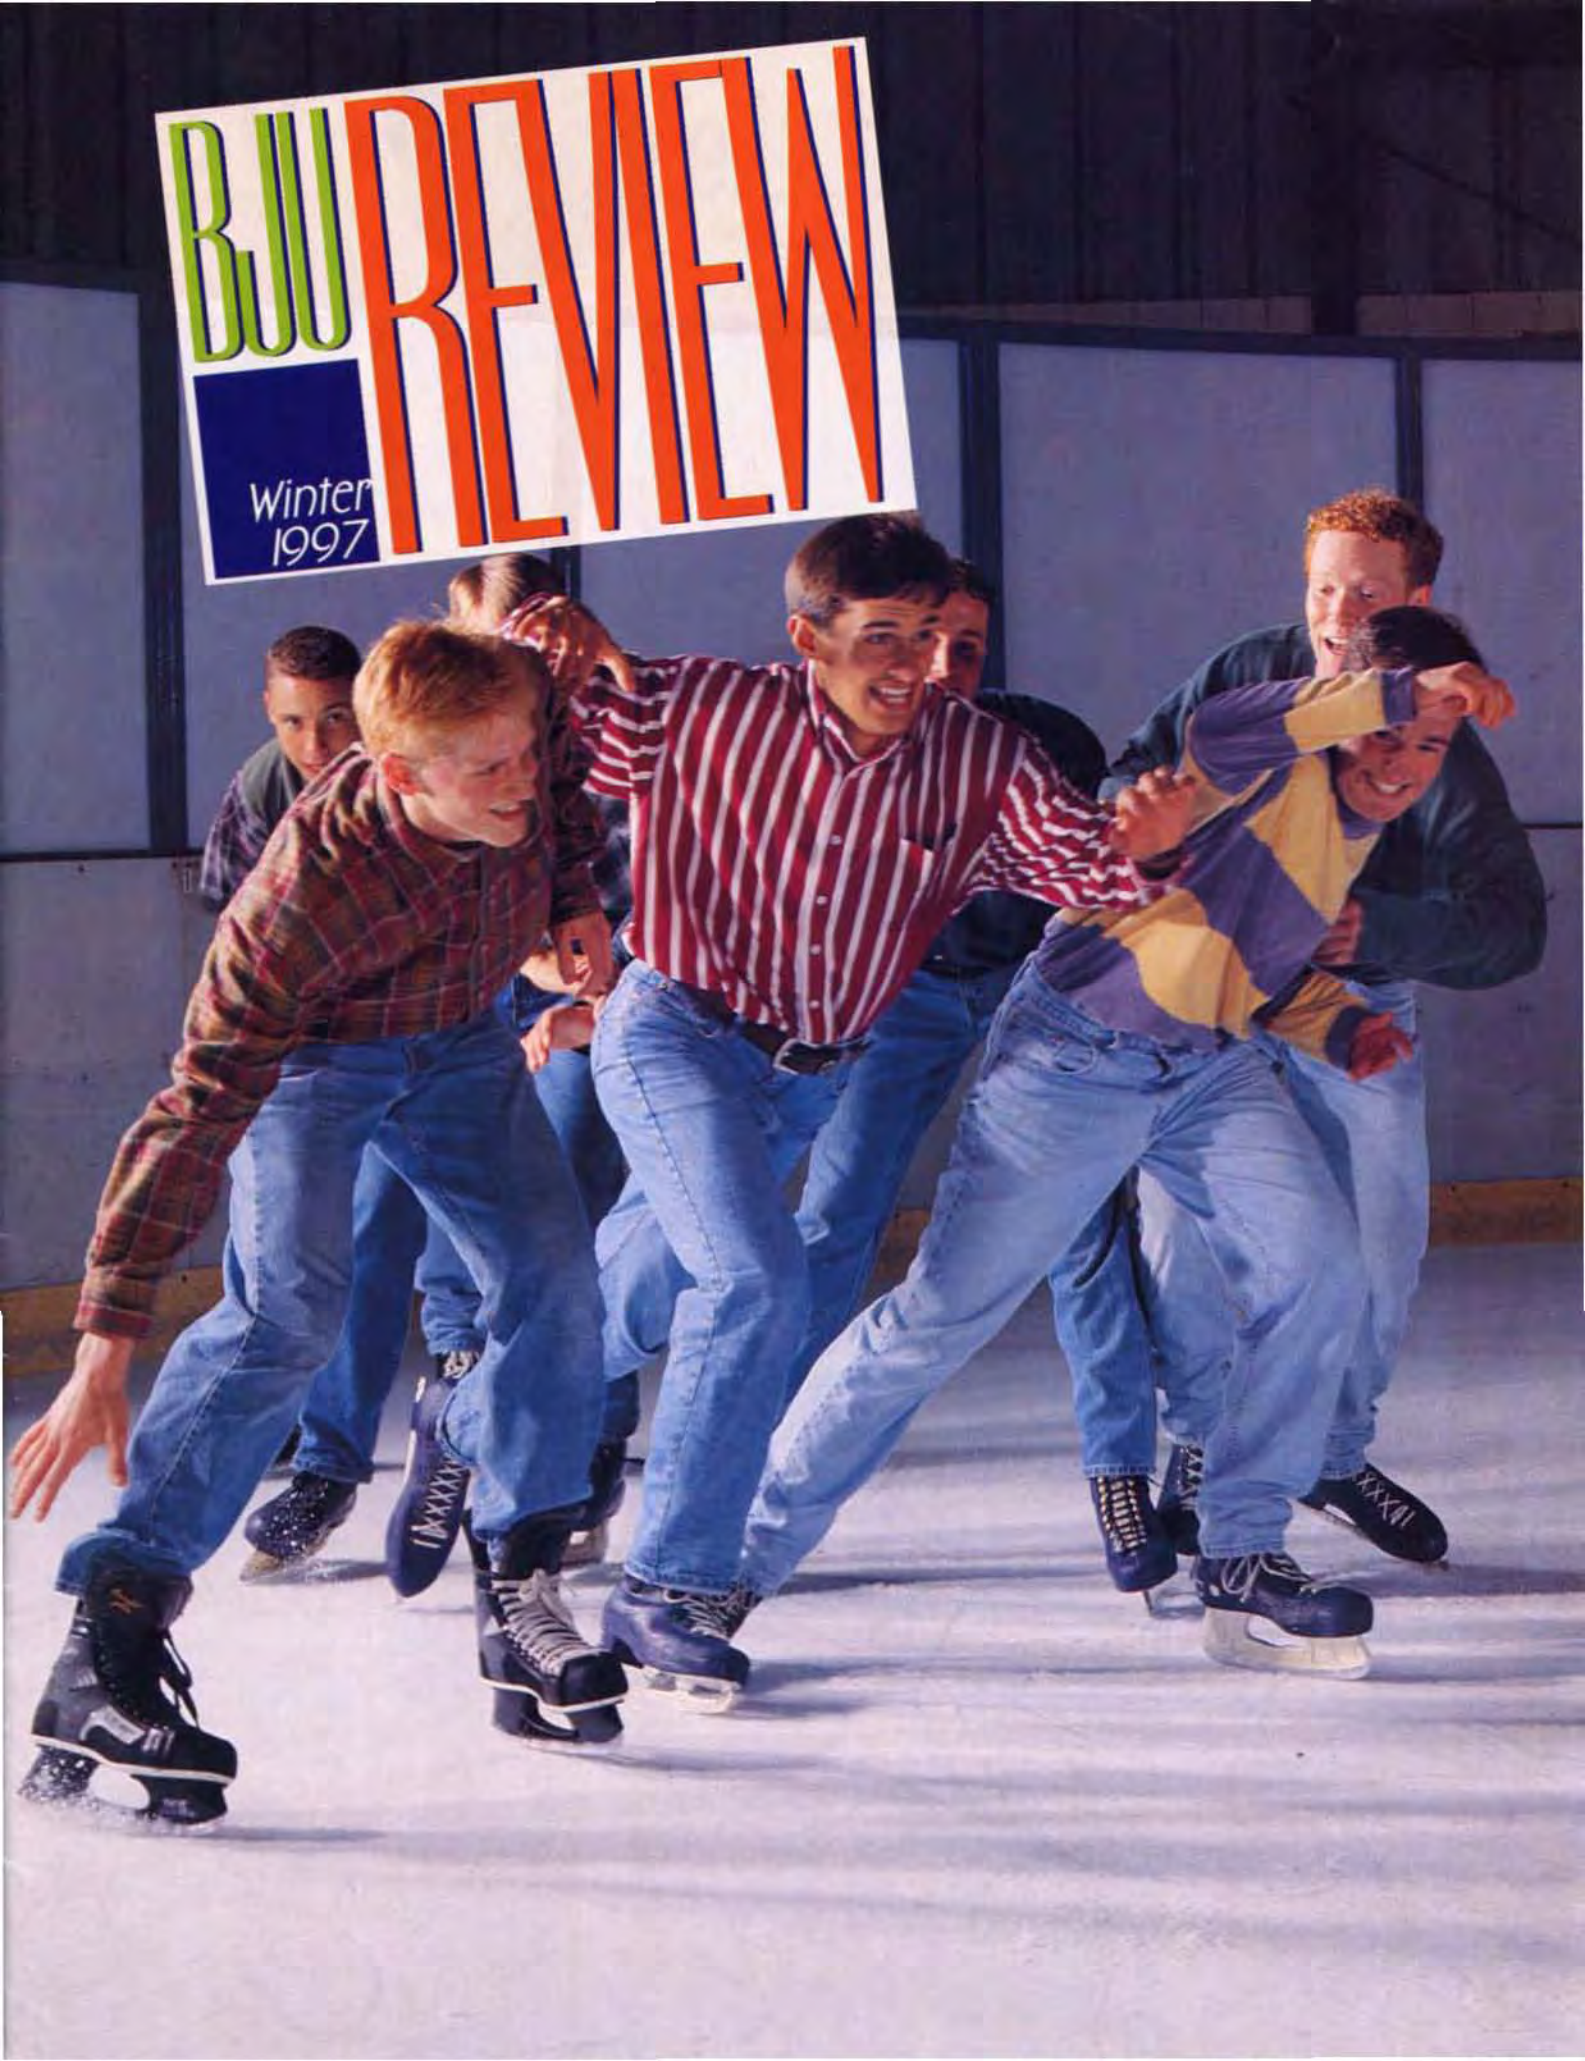
BJU REVIEW

Winter 1997



From the Refrigerator Door

Unusual Films staff member and '93 art graduate Chris Hartwick was accepted as a stipendiary in the Association of Mouth and Foot Painting Worldwide. This opportunity allows him to publish and display his work in world galleries for three years.

Carol Unruh, a 1986 graduate, was awarded the 1996 Wal-Mart Teacher of the Year award. She was one of 1,000 recipients of the honor nationwide. Carol teaches at Newton Bible Christian School in Newton, KS.

Three speech faculty members recently received their doctorates.

Charlotte Burke received a PhD in Speech Communication from Southern Illinois University.

Darren Lawson received his doctorate in Organizational Communication from the University of Kansas.

Gary Weier received his PhD in Rhetorical Studies from Purdue University.

Laurence Morton, head of the BJU Piano Department, was awarded a Lifetime Achievement Award from the South Carolina Music Teachers Association to honor his contribution to piano performance and teaching in South Carolina. He has taught at BJU for nearly 40 years.

The Mayflower Tour will voyage again this summer from May 17–31. Join Dr. Gerald Priest and Dr. David Beale on a tour of the villages and towns where the English Separatist movement originated and spend two weeks visiting the historical sites of the Pilgrims. Contact Unusual Tours at 1-800-515-2233 for more information.

Is There Life After Homework?

November 27-30
Storms a Brewin'

For four evenings BJU presented Shakespeare's comedy The Tempest. The lighthearted production showed the foibles of man set in a magical island kingdom.

November28
Thanksgiving & the Lions

The Omega Lions won their third straight soccer title by defeating the Basilean Eagles 3–1 in this year's annual Turkey Bowl. Also, many students, staff, and family members enjoyed a traditional turkey dinner hosted by the Dining Common.

December2-5
Soul Winning Conference

Dr. Rod Bell was the guest speaker in this week's chapel services to encourage students to witness as they go home for the holidays. It was a sobering reminder of our responsibility to tell the lost about Christ's salvation.

About the cover
The Student Body Council hosts many activities for BJU students throughout the school year, including Friday night skating parties at the nearby Pavilion, where students can postpone sleep to enjoy a few hours on the ice.

'88 grad and Rhetoric and Public Address Chairman Dr. Gary Weier was selected to attend C-SPAN's Summer Seminar for Professors. The conference focused on ways to use C-SPAN's public affairs programming in the college classroom.

Press Operator Wanted
BJU Press is in need of an operator for a large, sheet-fed four-color press and an operator for a small duplicator press. Interested applicants should contact:

Mr. Carl Mehus
Director, Printing Division
Bob Jones University Press

Bible Conference
(March 22–27)
Bible Conference is a special week at BJU. Students, faculty, and many visitors attend four services each day for instruction from God's Word during this time of spiritual refreshment on the campus. This year, ten guest speakers are scheduled.

Let's Get Acquainted Days
(March 28–30)
Prospective students are invited to spend a weekend getting to know BJU a little better. Activities include Classroom Kaleidoscope (a collection of unusual and interesting classes), the women's all-star volleyball game and the men's all-star basketball game.

Homework?

October 2
Special Convocation
Dr. Marvin Olasky, professor at University of Texas at Austin, editor of World magazine, and author of 14 history and cultural analysis books, spoke to the students about current events from a conservative journalist's perspective.

October 17
Artist Series
The Canadian Brass brought their unique brand of performance to the FMA stage. The nearly 7,000 seat auditorium was packed to hear America's premier brass ensemble.

October 30
Founder's Day
Each year, the BJU family sets aside this day to honor the memory of Dr. Bob Jones Sr. with a special chapel servce and dinner banquet. This day gave the students insight into the struggles and dedication of Dr. Bob Sr. in his call to start a school for the training of young people for service to God.

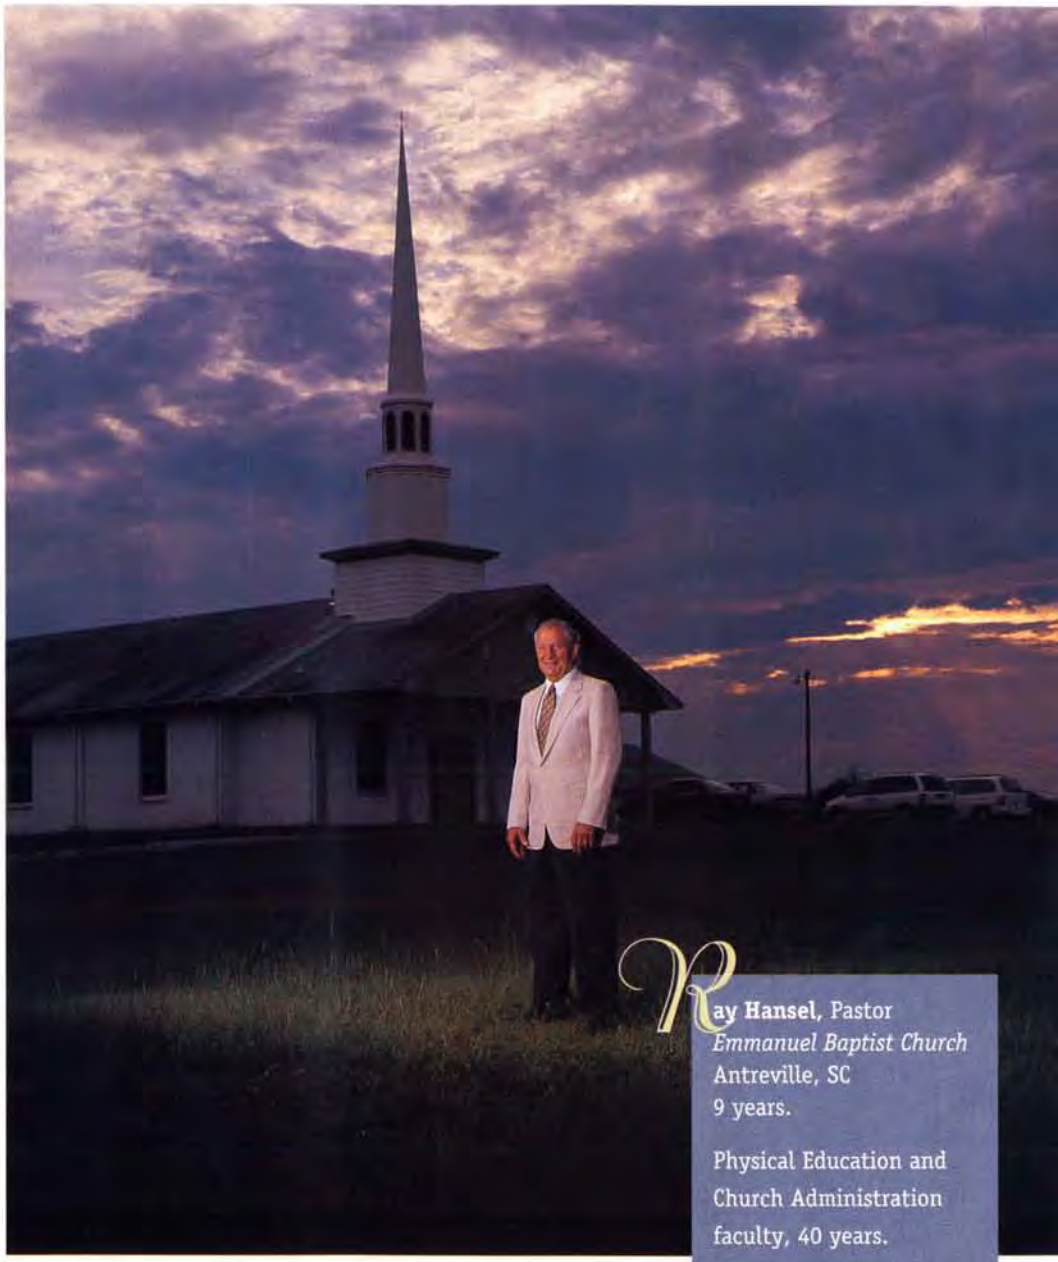
83800

miles and counting

For the past 41 years, Dr. Jim Bellis has traveled 450 miles round trip each weekend with his wife Arlene to serve as pastor of Poplar Springs Baptist Church in southeast Georgia. 838,000 miles add up to around 20,000 hours of driving and over 3,000 hamburgers. But to Jim, the sacrifice of traveling is worth the ministry he has with the church and the ministry he has as a teacher at BJU.

And Dr. Bellis is not alone in his dedication as a pastor and a BJU faculty member. Nine other members of our faculty and staff also serve as senior pastors in churches in South Carolina and Georgia, as well as dozens more who serve as assistant pastors, music directors, youth pastors, and deacons.



Jim Bellis, Pastor
Poplar Springs Baptist Church, Portal, GA
41 years.

Bible, Pastoral Studies, and Church Administration faculty, 46 years.

Founded in 1853, Poplar Springs Baptist Church has a rich history evident in its church graveyard. Although the current building is not the original building, the church membership spans eight generations of families in the small farm community.

Ray Hansel, Pastor
Emmanuel Baptist Church
Antreville, SC
9 years.

Physical Education and Church Administration faculty, 40 years.

Under Ray's leadership, Emmanuel Baptist Church has grown from 12 to 72 in attendance at the Sunday morning service. Several BJU students and faculty make the hour-long trip to help the Hansels in this church ministry.

Roger Dickinson, Pastor
Independent Bible Church
Greenville, SC
15 years.

Print Shop staff, 15 years.

Roger is grateful for the many BJU grads and employees who have been active in this ministry for the past 15 years. Many of those members are now serving the Lord across the U.S. and around the world.

Stewart Custer, Pastor
Trinity Bible Church
Greer, SC
16 years.

Chairman of the Division of Bible, 30 years; School of Religion faculty, 42 years.

Due to growth, Trinity Bible Church is currently constructing a new building to seat 450. But this construction has a twist—each step of construction is only what the church can pay for at that moment. Although this may take longer than normal building construction, the church will be debt-free.

Keith Barnes, Pastor
Community Bible Church
Woodruff, SC
7 years.

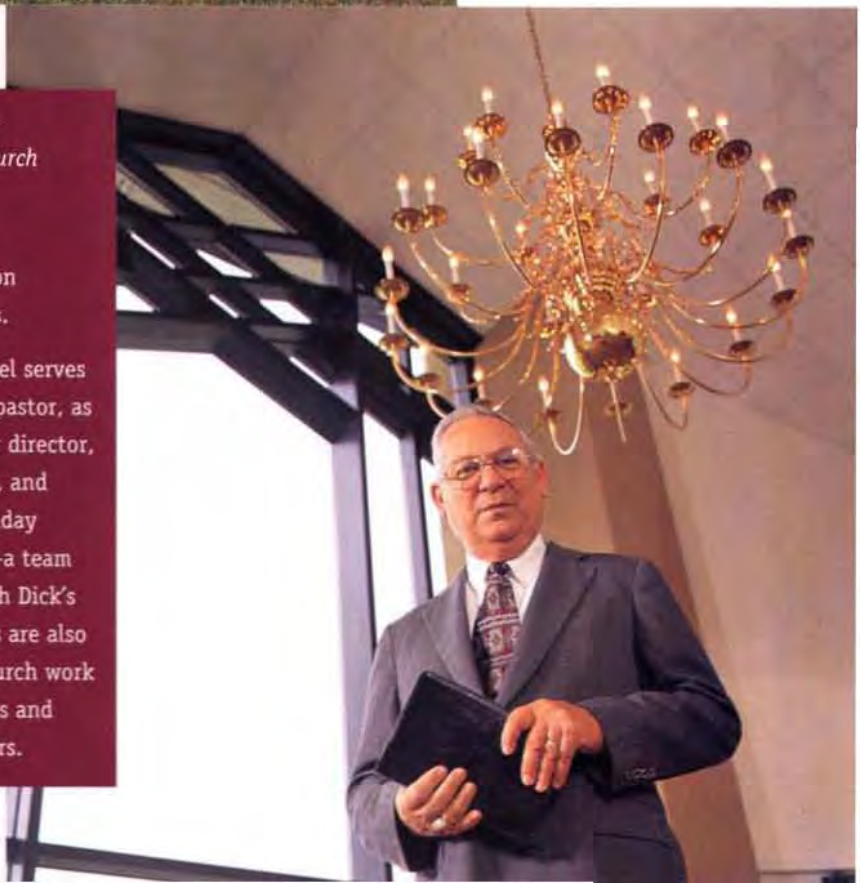
Admissions Counselor, 5 years; Re-enrollment Counselor, 6 years.

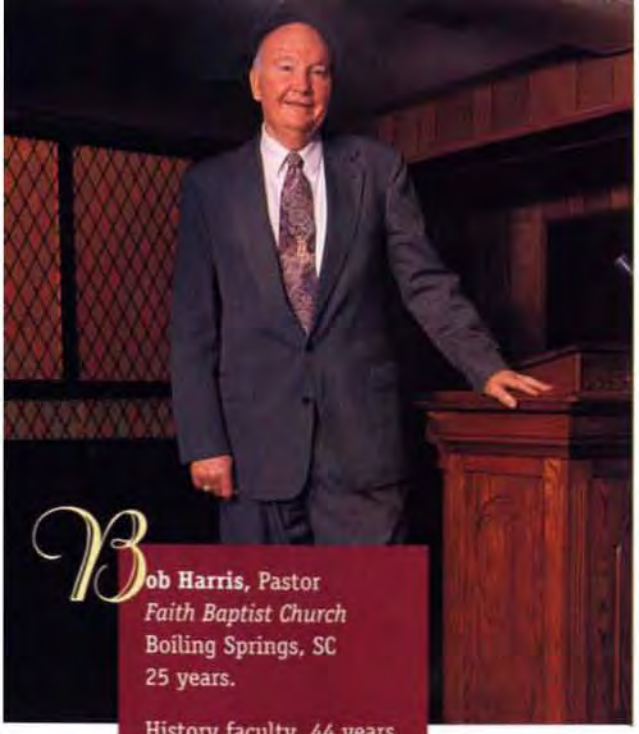
Keith started going to Woodruff on Friday nights for extension. At that time, they paid $5 to use a gym for the youth ministry. The members of Community Bible Church meet in what used to be a tavern but is now their church building.

Dick Gray, Pastor
Grace Baptist Church
Pelzer, SC
6 years.

School of Religion faculty, 28 years.

Dick's son Michael serves as his assistant pastor, as well as the choir director, AWANA director, and young adult Sunday school teacher—a team of six years. Both Dick's and Mike's wives are also active in the church work as choir members and children's workers.

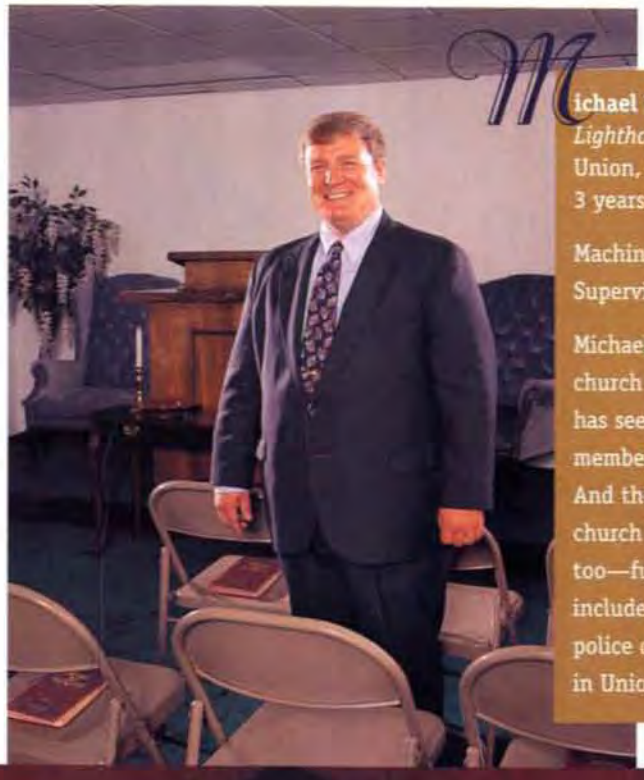




Bob Harris, Pastor
Faith Baptist Church
Boiling Springs, SC
25 years.

History faculty, 44 years.

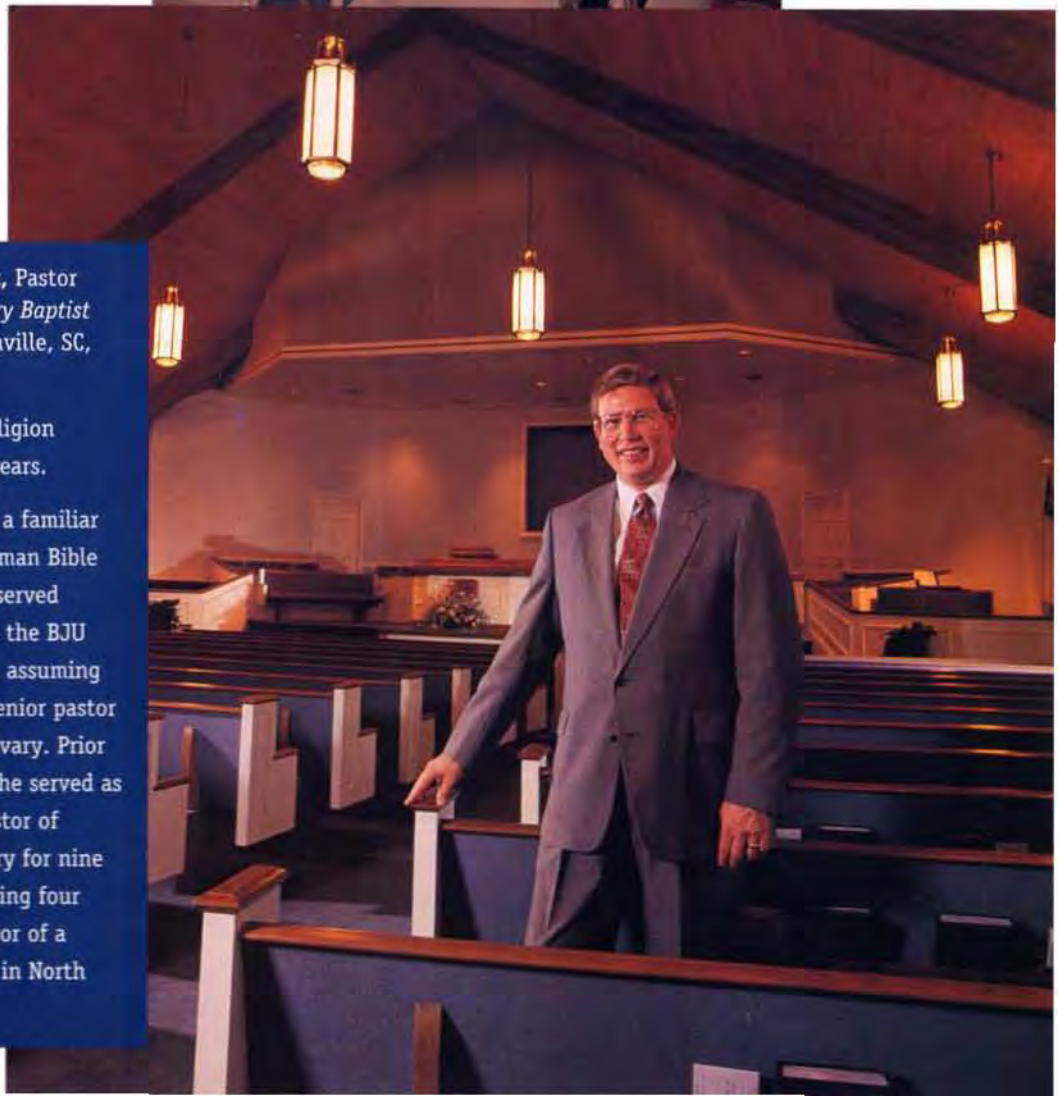
Every Sunday for 25 years, Faith Baptist Church has been active in an outside ministry with a nursing home. This outreach has given many young men extra opportunities for witnessing, visitation, and preaching.



Michael Hatch, Pastor
Lighthouse Baptist Church
Union, SC
3 years.

Machine Shop Supervisor, 4 1/2 years.

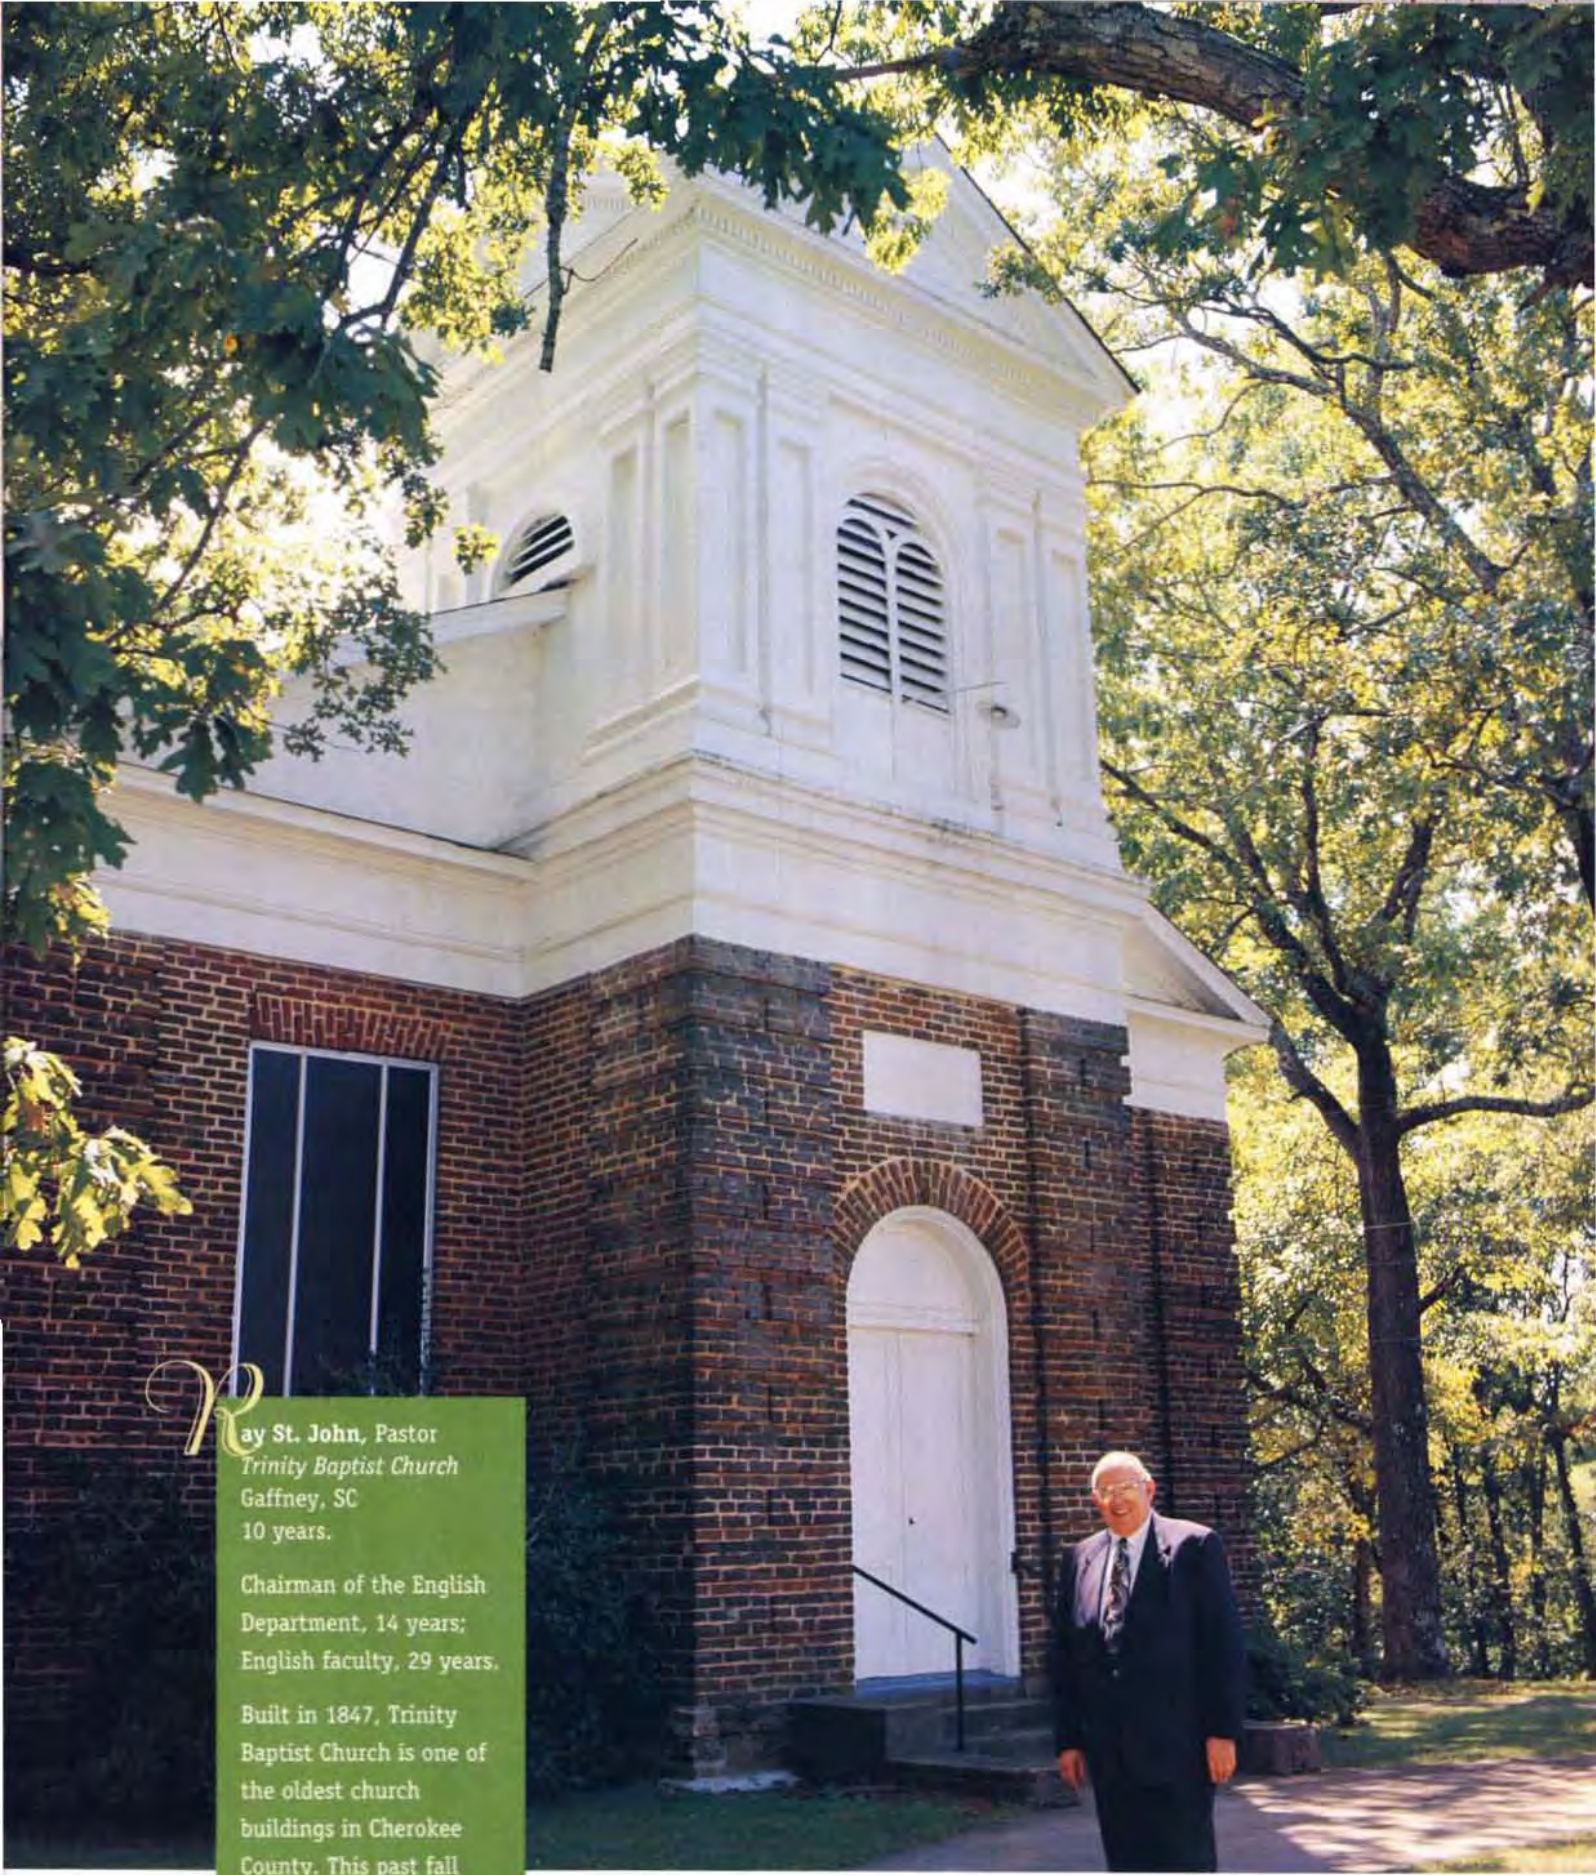
Michael planted this church 3 years ago and has seen it grow to 27 members (and counting). And the ministry of the church is growing too—future plans include the starting of a police chaplain ministry in Union County.



Mark Minnick, Pastor
Mount Calvary Baptist Church Greenville, SC,
9 years.

School of Religion faculty, 22 years.

Dr. Minnick, a familiar face in freshman Bible classes, has served part-time on the BJU faculty since assuming the role of senior pastor of Mount Calvary. Prior to this role, he served as associate pastor of Mount Calvary for nine years, following four years as pastor of a rural church in North Carolina.



Ray St. John, Pastor
Trinity Baptist Church
Gaffney, SC
10 years.

Chairman of the English Department, 14 years; English faculty, 29 years.

Built in 1847, Trinity Baptist Church is one of the oldest church buildings in Cherokee County. This past fall marked the building's 150th anniversary and the 16th anniversary of the church's founding.

The President's Corner

With 70 years of history behind us, the University looks forward to the future with confidence in the calling and grace of God.

The University's steadfastness in the faith and to a course consistent with the founder's purposes is of utmost importance to the new generation of faculty and administrative leadership that the Lord is raising up to take the University into the 21st century, if He tarries.

I'm immeasurably grateful to God for the men and women He is calling to be the future leadership of BJU. In order to give you, our praying friends, the opportunity to meet the next generation of leaders whom God is raising up, we began a series of testimonies in our last issue. Below is the second installment in that series. –Bob Jones III

Bob Jones University is "God's Special Place" for His children to prepare to serve Him. This fact gripped my parents' hearts when our family made a summertime visit to BJU many years ago. Knowing God wanted us here, we uprooted everything and "came down South" for the best Christian education in the world. One of God's greatest blessings to me is that I have been privileged to be a part of BJU since elementary school. Now as a young faculty member, I appreciate more than ever the uniqueness of Bob Jones University. It is my desire that God preserve this school as His "Fortress of Faith" until the Lord Jesus Christ returns.

Often I think of the similarity between the history of BJU and the history of the children of Israel. Just as God miraculously established Israel in the promised land, so God also miraculously established BJU. Israel flourished under the godly leadership of Moses, Joshua, and the elders who outlived them. BJU also has flourished, being blessed by God with three generations of warriors for the Faith. At this point in BJU's history, Scripture warns us with a sobering lesson from Israel's failure. After Joshua and all the elders of his generation died, "There arose another generation after them, which knew not the LORD, nor yet the works which he had done for Israel" (Judges 2:10). The new leaders of Israel had abandoned the conquest of Canaan and turned away from the commands of God. Furthermore, they intentionally removed from their minds the knowledge of God's personal presence and miraculous works. God turned His hand against His people because of their idolatry.

God forbid that this anathema ever be pronounced over Bob Jones University! Dr. Bob Sr. met graduates all over the world who begged him, "Keep it right, Dr. Bob! Keep it right!" We of the younger generation at BJU likewise plead with the Lord to work in us to "Keep it right!" until Christ returns. We must lovingly and uncompromisingly obey His commands; militantly fight the battle for truth; zealously win lost souls; and personally know the power of His presence and the reality of His miraculous works.

Bob Jones University is truly "God's Special Place." It exists for the sole purpose of God's glory. It is only by His grace and miracle-working power that BJU is still standing today. But when God is finished with this school, let Him close the doors. We don't want to outlast for one second our faithfulness to Him or our usability in His mighty hand.

Dr. Bob Sr. used to say, "If there's anything good here, God did it." We look to God alone for the power to remain faithful to His Word and the gospel cause. Until the Lord returns, may it always be true that BJU is still standing "without apology for the old-time religion and the absolute authority of the Bible."

Greg Kielmeyer graduated from BJU in 1992 with a degree in Rhetoric and Public Address and in 1994 completed his M.A. in the same field. He is assistant director of the European Musical Mission Team and teaches public speaking and communication courses. He is an active member of the University Classic players as well as a director of Vespers.

More Majors than a box of Crayons

Think back to the days when crayons were your writing instruments of choice. Which did you prefer—the box of 8, or the box of 96? Silly question, right?

Now, let's think about choosing a college. You can choose College A, with its 8-pack of majors and get blue. Or you can choose BJU, and choose from green blue, blue green, periwinkle, midnight blue, cadet blue...17 different blues in all.

College A's single color is BJU's department full of shades. Take, for instance, writing. At College A it might be pink, but at BJU, it's salmon, thistle, razzle dazzle rose, tickle me pink, and mauvelous.

Do you get the picture (pun intended)? Here are just a few examples.

YOU MEAN SOMEONE ACTUALLY DOES THAT?

TIM JOHNSON

Electrical

"This past summer, I helped with the maintenance of the underground HVAC and electrical tunnels and installation of new or updated features. We put in a new bell clock system, put in a new line to the dining common, and updated the tunnel light fixtures. I also helped clean out the tunnels and take down old, unused lines to make room for the new things."

Around 1,800 of BJU's students participate in the work program to help pay their school bill. They are placed in various departments on the BJU campus, such as custodial, Campus Store, and many others. But not everyone works in visible jobs like the usher crew. Some of them work behind the scenes—in jobs you just take for granted that someone somewhere is getting done, or perhaps in jobs you never even thought that someone would be doing. So here are four of the most intriguing jobs on campus.

BETSY TOJDOWSKI

BJU Help Network

"I help build sets for the BJU Educational Satellite Network. The sets are cut and molded into the object needed—the tree, for example, took over a week to cut and shape. We then paint the set, avoiding shades that don't work on camera, such as dark blues, browns and bright reds. The most challenging step is building supports for the set—anything from wire hangers to wooden constructions. I enjoy working on all the sets—it's a great learning experience for me."

VINCE BARNHART

BJU Press Art Department

"My main job is illustrating—drawing pictures that tell a story. The Press puts out a variety of products needing some kind of illustration—not just for products, but also for the advertising. There is always something to do—from cartoons to more serious illustration, which keeps my job pretty interesting. I get to improve my skills as an artist, but I also get to see how all of the departments come together to produce the finished piece."

DANIELLE APPLEMAN

Art Agency

"I help make signs for University buildings, streets, and events. From lettering the Public Safety vehicles to putting together displays that will travel all across the country, my job never lacks variety. It's always fun to be able to say 'I made that sign,' even if it's just a simple traffic sign that most people don't notice."

How else can you pay your school bill? Pastor John Van Delinder of Victory Baptist Church in Jacksonville, FL has a few ideas—not just to get his students to BJU, but also to help keep them there.

"Each July, our school sets up a tent to sell fireworks for the 4th of July. Our college students manage their own booth to make some extra money while fellowshipping with each other and with parents. We also hand out tracts and witness to our customers.

"During late spring, I contact employment directors and church members whose employers hire college students for the summer. Last year, we had job contacts with UPS, RPS, Adesa, First Union, and J.C. Penney, as well as opportunities with our day care, summer camp, and pastoral internships. Many times, members of our congregation give recommendations to personnel directors, and our students start work before other students return home.

"We also try to offer them encouragement while they are away at college. For example, the church has set up an 800 number that allows the students to call me directly to share blessings and lessons they've learned or to receive encouragement. We also send notes, news bulletins, and prayer requests to our students via e-mail. Once a year, while I'm on campus, I take the students out to eat. This special time of fellowship allows me to spend time with MY kids.

"When you polish coins, you must use a polish that matches the surface in order not to harm the coin. Training young people has the same idea. My church spends a lot of time, energy, and money polishing our young people—it's important that we not harm them with our polishing. BJU is a place where our young people can receive the same polishing and training."

A Winter Secret

This engaging drama tells the tale of a girl, a King, and the gift of giving. One unforgettable winter night, young Tanasee receives an unexpected visit from which she learns the secret of giving. Dawn Watkins, distinguished children's author, now brings a delightful story to video in A Winter Secret. This children's theater-style video is like a storybook come to life, fascinating children of all ages.

Preaching is primary

Our top priority is training our ministerial students to preach. So we start almost as soon as they walk on campus, with six hours of speech, four Bible courses, and four classes in evangelism and discipleship, including Fundamentals of Preaching during their freshman year. And we continue that in-depth preacher training with:

- An emphasis on the development of messages
- Undergraduate courses in Greek and graduate courses in Hebrew
- Pulpit speech training, including in-depth sermon preparation; in-class delivery, videotaping, and critiques; and an emphasis on expository preaching
- Additional undergraduate and seminary courses in Expository Preaching, Methods of Bible Exposition, and Homiletics
- Over 50 chances to preach in classes, summers, and off-campus extensions
- An optional minor in pulpit speech
- Some of the finest preaching in the world during daily chapels, and missions, soulwinning, and Bible conferences.

For more information about preacher training at BJU, call 1-800-BJ-AND-ME or visit our web site at www.bju.edu.

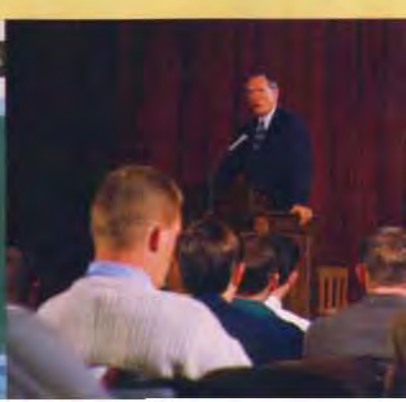
The Preacher's Good Friend

Stands without apology for the old-time religion and absolute authority of the Bible.



When it comes to watching your favorite sport,

don't let the weather interrupt you.

The sports blanket will keep you warm on those chilly nights at the stadium. Ultra-soft, machine-washable, and available in navy or heather gray (both with the BJU emblem on the front). $25.20

The rainbow umbrella is large enough to keep you [and all of your friends] dry. (And it's also great for keeping your backpack dry during walks to class.) The BJU imprint shows your college pride. $20.95
